

The Mount Olivet School of Music presents:

“NEXT!!!!”

Preparing for the musical theatre audition

Are you facing an audition when you return to school this fall? Would you like to wow the director of the musical and land the role you were born to fill? This group class can prepare you to put your best foot forward at your audition. Amanda Broge (along with some special guests) will teach this class and share her extensive experience with the audition process. Selection of repertoire, resume preparation and general presentation are some of the topics that will be covered. The class will culminate in an audition “master class” where participants will observe each other audition for a three person panel.

Tuition includes a one hour private meeting (new this year) with Ms. Broge to select appropriate repertoire.

Four sessions covering these topics:

- Basics of the Musical Theatre Audition
- Appropriate Repertoire Choices and Cold Readings
- The Movement Audition/ Movement

Who: Students entering 9th Grade— Adults

When: Tuesday and Thursdays

August 18 — August 27

5:30pm—7:30pm

Cost: $200 includes (includes one hour private session with Amanda Broge- NEW THIS YEAR)
